CHASE MEXICAN BANDITS ACROSS THE RIO GRANDE

Five Killed When Overtaken by Members of Troop K, Eighth Cavalry.

Official Report Received by Colonel Langhorne at Marfa, Texas, Shows Raid to Have Been Most Daring Ever Attempted.

MARFA, TEX., April 2.-Following a raid across the Rio Grande River during a blinding hallstorm by Mexican bandits last night, Troop K, Eighth Cavalry, in command of Captain Matlick, overtook and killed five of the bandits, recovered the horses and cattle stolen, and returned to the American side, according to an official report received by Colonel George T. Langhorne, at district headquarters

The bandits were reported last night to have crossed to the American side between Buidoda and Candelaria, on the river front. They stole cattle and horses and drove them back across the river under cover of darkness and the river under cover of darkness and the storm.

Troop K, in command of Captain Matlact, and Troop M, commanded by Captain Broadhead, were ordered to the scene of the raid and by daybreak Troop L had moved into support positions from Indie. Infantry detachments were moved by wagon train and trucks over almost impassable roads to occupy the stations left vacant by the cavairy troops forming for the pursuit.

As soon as it was light enough for the scouts to locate the tracks of the raiders these were followed to the river bank, where they could be plainly seen on the Mexican side. Cavalry troops were ordered to follow into Mexico on the "hot trail."

The bandits ecattered and Troop K, under Captain Matlack, followed one band while Captain Broadhead, commanding Troop M, pursued the other. They galloped over trails which were like mountain paths, Troop K overtaking the bandits and killing five of them before they could hide in the canyons.

Price Situation Still Controlling Factor in Business Conditions, Report Shows.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Improvement in general business conditions and the continuance of an undertone of confidence in the essential strength and soundness of the country's economic position, was reported today in the Federal Reserve Board's review of the business situation toward the of the business situation toward the end the business situation toward the end of March.

In all Federal reserve districts the price situation was said to be still the controlling factor in business conditions and outlook. While the actual situation had not changed very fundamentally, symptoms were reported pointing to an improvement in future prospects and to a more complete readjustment of business to normal conditions. A continuous, though moderate, decline of prices was noted.

Equally important as the decline in the prices, it was said, has been the "fact that the public at large has apparently given up expectations of immodiate and decisive declines."

Great diversity of conditions was found to exist in the manufacturing field, with unsettlement particularly in cotton manufacturing and iron and steel.

"Manufacturers of boots and choes report from various districts," the review said, "that their business is almost normal, and in some cases up to capacity. In groceries, retailers are to capacity. In groceries, retailers are buying slowly.

"The demand for jewelry, automobiles and other luxuries appears to be brisk in many districts."

Consideration of the question of reparations and the disposition of the Rhine Valley was continued by the council of four, comprising President Wilson and the Premiers of France, Great Britain and Italy, when the session of the council was resumed today. It is understood to be probable that at least three more days will be occupied with these subjects. American financial experts were called into the session today.

nations. We want nothing but simple justice."

Japan is glad to join a league of nations to maintain peace and order, the baron added.

Japan does not wish, he continued, to force her laborers as immigrants on any associate countries, and recognizes that this question is one for each nation to deal with itself.

Japan feels that it is entitled to a frank and open mission by the ailies that the principle of equity and justice is a fundamental tenet of the league of nations, the baron continued. Members of the American delegation will go, but it is as yet unknown whether President Wilson will be one of the party.

Consider Frontiers of State.

President Wilson and the premiers in conference at the "White House" today decided to send to South Hungary for information concerning the situation, and to remove the misunder-standing that has arisen regarding the frontiers of new states. It has been said that the revolutions have largely been brought about by a mistaken notion regarding the intentions of the allied commission in Hungary.

The council continued its consideration of reparations today. There is four pursuit squadrons, representing a wing formation for each type of machine.

Let General Foch Write Peace Treaty, Is the Suggestion of Senator Harding

gestion that General Foch should write the peace treaty and wind it gestion that General Foch should write the peace treaty and wind it up in a hurry as he did the armistice terms, was advanced today by Senator Warren G. Harding, of Ohio, in an interview. General Foch could be depended upon, the Senator said, to guard the security of the United States as well as that of France and Great Britain.

Senator Harding criticized the deliny at the peace conference, and declared that it has brought the ailies apparently to the point of recognizing Boishevism. He said the people of all countries are seriously concerned over the delay in bringing about peace.

"Not only is Boishevist destructiveness to be countenanced in fallen Russin," he added, "but the world will swaken pretty soon to the fact that Germany is dominant there, and has expended infinitely more through revolution and delay than it was expected to accomplish by force of arms."

Senator Harding declared that it is a "dangerous business to trade on our position as a world creditor and to force Europe and America into a hasty compact to establish world internationalism."

Of the league of nations he said:

"It is difficult to say anything about the proposed league of nations, because no one knows what the proposal is going to be. The original draft is doomed here, if not buried at Paris. It is regretable that we know so little. In the face of the solemn pledge of open covenants openly arrived at we are astonished to read of threatened exposures of hindering effect, and my own impression is that the peace conference is not getting anywhere with actual accomplishments. I doubt if we have any serious proposal for a league with the trenty of peace, for which peace treaty all the world is calling.

"The official-uttered demand for something constructive in place of opposition to the President's first proposal, seems to have been met, and has turned the course of events. If not litterally constructive, it is at least corrective and preservative, and it was preservation that Washington was thinking about when he uttered his anxieties and warnings to the American people. Clearly the original purpose is forsaken now, and the sanctity of one-man dictation is ended. One-man power hy force of arms has been proven impossible again and again, and it will not prevail in the rhetoric of peace."
